

Dear Saints and Friends of Gregory Memorial,

“Do you not know that you are God’s temple and that God’s Spirit dwells in you?” -1 Corinthians 3:16

“Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love. The fellowship of kindred minds is like to that above!” (John Fawcett, 1782, “Blest Be the Tie That Binds”)

The weekend this newsletter is going out is the weekend of the Third Sunday of Easter. Liturgically (and it’s only off by a couple weeks on the calendar this year), this weekend marks my four year anniversary of stepping into the pulpit of Gregory Memorial Presbyterian Church, the anniversary of stepping into community and this journey of faith with each of you.

Thank you for inviting me, for offering me (and Megan) a place at Christ’s Table with you. Thank you for letting me share in your lives, your ups and downs, your joys and concerns. It remains one of our deepest joys to be in this place with you, spiritually and physically.

The community of faith is one of the greatest gifts we can give one another, and which we can receive. It is the regular reminder that whatever is going on in our individual lives, in our joys and sorrows, we are not alone – we have received Christ, and we have received each other.

In many ways, I feel as if I’ve learned more about ministry and discipleship since I’ve left seminary, than when I was in seminary. One aspect I was recently reminded of was the shortcomings of the English language when it comes to translating Hebrew and Greek – specifically that English does not have a good word for the ‘plural you.’ Thankfully, Southerners do: “y’all.” And that’s precisely how the “you” in Paul’s letter to the Corinthians quoted above should be read: not as “you the individual area God’s temple,” but that “y’all together, in community, are God’s temple.” Allow me to update it for us.

“Do you not know that y’all, together, are God’s temple and that God’s Spirit dwells in y’all?”

Doesn’t that sound better? Well, even if it doesn’t necessarily roll off the tongue, its meaning is much better, I would argue, because I’ve witnessed the truth of it. So often, this verse is misinterpreted to be that an individual person’s body, solely, is a temple for God, so that everywhere you look, you might see ten, twenty, fifty or a hundred little ‘temples of God’ going about their daily business! But this couldn’t be further from the intended meaning; when we come together, in fellowship and worship, in praise and conversation, then together we make up God’s temple.

As Christians, present-day disciples of our resurrected Lord, we are better when we’re together. I can move a few rocks on my own, but together we can move mountains. I can do a few good deeds on my own, but together we can transform a community for the better. I can feel at peace sitting in the sanctuary on my own, but I am energized and grounded in my faith when we gather together to worship. If you think about it, haven’t you felt the same way?

When I say that it’s one of my deepest joys, and that I have nothing but gratitude and thanksgiving because you – all of you – have welcomed Megan and me into your community of faith, it’s an understatement; words can never fully express my gratitude and joy. Without this community of faith, we would be severely lacking. As we celebrate our Homecoming, as we reflect on 130 years of ministry in Prince George and look ahead to where God is leading us, as we bear witness again to the resurrection of our Lord Jesus and the fullness of Life he offers, may we continue to seek one another out in community, and to be God’s temple, together, in this time and place.

With you on the journey,
Pastor Jason

Update from the Sign Committee: We have accepted a bid for a new, bi-directional digital sign, and have already begun the process of having it installed! Our new sign will shine like a beacon, informing passers-by of events and worship, and helping us extend the invitation to worship with us. While we are able to cover a majority of the cost from bequests and memorial gifts, there is still a balance that will have to be paid. While we are looking into possible grants, we are asking you, the members of the congregation, to prayerfully consider making a pledge to help cover the outstanding costs. More information will be forthcoming in the weeks ahead, and please feel free to ask us questions!

Many thanks for all who helped make the Workcamp fundraiser so successful!

SUMMER OF FUN FOR THE CHRISTIAN FAMILY PRESENTED BY THE CHRISTIAN EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Christian Ed is celebrating the Christian family with several special events during the upcoming months. Since we are all children of God, the events are being designed so "children of all ages" will be able to participate and enjoy. It is also our hope that everyone will take this opportunity to invite friends and family to join us. A personal invitation from you may be all that is needed to get a new family into our church.

Our first big event will be held on June 24th. A Party Deck has already been reserved at the Diamond so that we can enjoy a Squirrel's game in style.

The Party Deck will accommodate 24 fans, so this event will be on a first come first serve basis. More information on tickets will be forth coming but you will want to mark your calendar for this fun event.

In July we will be treated to a juggling performance by Jonathan Austin. He is well known in the Richmond area and promises to give a performance that everyone will enjoy and be talking about for days. The date for this is July 13th.

After the show we will enjoy ice cream sundaes.

On August 15th a cook out is in the planning stages with entertainment to follow. A Christian clown is joining us and plans to give us a lot of after dinner laughs. What a wonderful way to spend a summer evening together.

As you can see this summer at Gregory will offer good wholesome family fun. These are events that everyone can enjoy and will provide YOU with the opportunity to ask a friend to church. Mark your calendars!

HOLY HUMOR

MOTHERS OF THE FAMOUS

Columbus' Mother: "I don't care what you've discovered, Chris. You still could have written."

Michelangelo's Mother: "Mike, can't you paint on walls like other children? Do you have any idea how hard it is to get that stuff off the ceiling?"

Mary's Mother: "I'm not upset that your lamb followed you to school, Mary, but I would like to know how he got a better grade than you."

Batman's Mother: "It's a nice car, Bruce, but do you realize how much the insurance is going to be?"

Goldilocks' Mother: "I've got a bill here for a broken chair from the Bear family. Do you know anything about this, Goldie?"

Albert Einstein's Mother: "But, Albert, it's your senior picture. Can't you do something about your hair? Styling gel, mousse...something?"

George Washington's Mother:
"The next time I catch you throwing money across the Potomac, you can kiss your allowance good-bye!"

Superman's Mother: "Clark, your father and I have discussed it, and we've decided you can have your own telephone line. Now, will you quit spending so much time in all those phone booths?"

Thomas Edison's Mother: "Of course I'm proud that you invented the electric light bulb, Thomas. Now, turn off that light and get to bed!"
